

HOUSE AND SENATE READY TO ADJOURN

FINAL SESSIONS OF CONGRESS BEING HELD.

Leaders of Both Houses Look For the End Tomorrow—Compromise Was Reached on the Naval Bill—Deficiency Bill Passed—General Capital City Happenings.

Washington, June 9.—Senator Allison, chairman of the appropriation committee of the senate, and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the house, agreed last night that the situation indicated a final adjournment on Wednesday. The house agreed to the final conference on the postoffice appropriation bill yesterday and the senate passed the general deficiency bill as it came from the house. This leaves but four of the great supply bills still in issue—the District of Columbia, the Indian, the naval and the Sundry civil bills.

Although neither house has yet acted on the report, the conferees on the naval bill have agreed on a report which it is thought will prove acceptable to both houses. It compromises the question of the number of battleships by authorizing three instead of four, as the bill passed the house and two as it passed the senate. The question of the maximum cost of armor plate, fixed by the house at $4.25 a ton and by the senate at $3.20 a ton, is postponed until the next session of congress.

In the sundry civil bill the public-building items are still the bone of contention, and in the District of Columbia and the Indian bills the question of sectarian charities and sectarian schools, respectively, are the only items in issue.

The leaders of both houses expect an adjournment of the adjournment Wednesday. The fact that the republicans of the house have insisted upon taking up a contested-election case in the closing hours of congress has irritated the democrats, and they may force the majority to furnish their own quorum to unseat another democrat. As the republicans have not a quorum of their own in the city this furnishes the main cause for alarm, so far as the house is concerned.

IN THE SENATE.

New Deficiency Bill at Once Taken Up at Monday's Session.

Washington, June 9.—The new deficiency bill, framed to meet the directions of the president's recent veto, was taken up as soon as the senate met Monday.

Before proceeding with it further conferences were ordered on the Indian and District of Columbia appropriation bills. The activity and confusion on the floor of the senate while minor measures were hurried through their final stages indicated the near approach of an adjournment. The large attendance of senators overcame fears that had been entertained that the senate would be left without a quorum.

When the deficiency bill had been read Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.) offered an amendment covering the claims under the Bowman act, which had been omitted in the house bill, although there was no specific objection to them in the veto passage. Mr. Harris said that in the former bill the Bowman claims were coupled with the French spoliation claims. He had never examined the spoliation claims and felt no interest in them, but these Bowman act claims, amounting to about $500,000, had been subjected, he said, to judicial scrutiny and should be paid as much as any obligations incurred by the government. After further debate the vice-president submitted to the senate a point of order against the amendment, and it was voted to be out of order. The deficiency bill was then passed as it came from the house.

At 2 o'clock the immigration bill was taken up and Mr. Morgan (dem., Ala.) spoke in support of his amendment that the restrictions of the act should not apply to persons coming to this country from Cuba. He said no country had contributed a better class of people to our population than Cuba. Its citizens, he said, came to escape the persecutions of Spain and to live under free institutions.

TO MAINTAIN A QUORUM.

House Revokes All Leaves of Absence to Members.

Washington, June 9.—In order to guard against the failure of a quorum in the closing hours of the session the house Monday revoked all leaves of absence and ordered the sergeant-at-arms to telegraph absentees to return forthwith. Just before the session closed after one unsuccessful attempt the house decided to take up the consideration of the Aldrich-Underwood contested-election case from the Ninth Alabama district. Instead of adjourning the house again took a recess until today in order to render the special order of Friday still operative.

Dan R. Sheen Withdraws.
Peoria, Ill., June 9.—Dan R. Sheen, a well-known local attorney, has directed a letter to the chairman of the prohibition state central committee in which he resigned his position as a member of the committee and declined to be the candidate of the party.

ALL SILVER IN ARIZONA.

Territorial Convention Selects Delegates to the Chicago Convention.

Phoenix, Ari., June 10.—The democratic territorial convention which assembled here Monday had one prevailing idea and that was free silver. The resolution on silver is as follows:

"We favor the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or the consent of any other nations; such gold and silver to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private. We are opposed to the retirement of the greenbacks, and demand that the secretary of the treasury, instead of issuing interest bearing bonds for the purchase of gold, shall recognize silver as the money of redemption and exercise the right to redeem greenbacks, the treasury notes and all other coin obligations in silver where silver is more convenient."

The delegates to the national convention were instructed to vote as a unit and to vote only for a free-coinage candidate for the nomination for president and vice-president. The platform demands the immediate admission of Arizona to statehood. A resolution pledging the Chicago delegates to Bland was voted down.

JULES SIMON DEAD.

Distinguished French Statesman Ends His Long and Honorable Career.

Paris, June 9.—Jules Simon, the distinguished French statesman, formerly premier, who had been dangerously ill for some time past, died at 11:40 Monday, aged 83 years.

MAYO'S SUDDEN DEATH.

The Celebrated Actor Expires While on a Train.

Omaha, Neb., June 9.—Frank Mayo, the celebrated actor, died very suddenly of paralysis of the heart while on board the Union Pacific fast mail going east near Grand Island. Mr. Mayo was on his way to Omaha with his company, where he was to open an engagement. The remains arrived here at 5 o'clock and were prepared for interment and shipment under the direction of a delegation from the lodge of Elks, which took them until they were ready for shipment east.

Capt. John G. Bourke Dead.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 9.—Captain John G. Bourke, Third Cavalry, U. S. A., died Monday at the Polyclinic hospital, this city, where he had been under treatment for about three weeks. Captain Bourke was 53 years old. At the time of his death he was stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont. He leaves a widow and three daughters. Captain Bourke's remains will be interred in the National Cemetery at Arlington.

Captain Bourke had a brilliant record as a gallant soldier. He was a member of scientific societies in France, England and the United States, and wrote much upon anthropology and folk-lore. At the meeting of the American Folk-Lore society, in this city in December last, Captain Bourke was chosen president.

Big Fire in Toronto.

Toronto, Ont., June 9.—The big department store of James N. McKendry & Co. in Yonge street, just north of Queen street, was destroyed by fire at 8 o'clock Monday night. McKendry carried a stock valued at $150,000, which is a total loss. The fire spread to the department store of the T. Eaton company, south of McKendry's building, but was soon extinguished. Eaton, however, will suffer a very large loss from water. The boot and shoe store of Guinane Bros., north of McKendry's, was also flooded by water and the stock damaged.

Silver Wins at Ohio Primaries.

Cincinnati, O., June 9.—The democratic primaries of Hamilton county resulted in the election of sixty-six silver and two gold delegates to the democratic state convention at Columbus June 23. Of the 6,219 votes cast 5,756 were for the silver tickets and the city of Cincinnati cast 4,000 silver votes. The returns from other counties show that the delegates selected up to date to the state convention stand as follows: Silver, 307; gold, 14; uninstructed, 23.

Breckinridge a Candidate.

Lexington, Ky., June 9.—In reply to a direct question from a reporter for the Lexington Argonaut Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge is quoted as saying that he intended to be the next democratic congressman from the Ashland district.

EUROPE IN TERROR BECAUSE OF REDS

ANARCHISTS TO BEGIN A REGULAR CAMPAIGN.

The Bomb Thrown at Barcelona, Spain, Sunday, Was the First of a Series of Outrages—Twenty-Nine Deaths Will Result—Martial Law Is Declared.

Barcelona, June 9.—Martial law has been declared here.

The number of victims of the bomb explosion of Sunday are eight dead, twenty-one dying, and eighteen injured.

The person who threw the bomb has not yet been apprehended, but the police are busy in the search for the culprit. The impression is general that anarchists did the work as a result of a widespread plot. The police are working on this theory and have arrested twenty-two men known to entertain anarchistic sympathies. In connection with these arrests they have seized a number of documents which furnish some clue to the plot of which the bomb-throwing was a manifestation. These documents indicate a plot to precipitate a number of anarchistic demonstrations accompanied by acts of violence at different points simultaneously or following close upon each other, so as to create a reign of terror in the different European governments.

Sunday's outrage was accompanied by features of peculiar atrocity. It was while the people, both those in the procession and those looking on, were devoutly kneeling that the bomb was thrown by the unknown assassin. Whether by design or not, it did its deadliest work among the innocent and harmless, the majority of the victims being women and children. Those of them who were not killed outright were horribly mutilated and are subjected to excruciating torture by their injuries.

It is believed that the outrage was immediately directed against General Desbujola, one of the dignitaries of the city, who was carrying the banner at the head of the religious procession. Other city officials also took part in the procession.

CULLOM MAY GO TO CANTON.

Removed That Illinois Senator Will Call Upon the Ohio Candidate.

Canton, O., June 9.—It is reported here that Senator Cullom is to be a visitor to the McKinley residence in a few days. No confirmation of the announcement can be had at this time but it is understood that he will be given a very cordial greeting by McKinley should the Illinois senator place foot in Canton.

Mark Hanna made a statement for the press, in which he said no conferences have been held or deals made with Senator Proctor with the view of making him either temporary or permanent chairman. "Mr. Hanna will not stop in Cleveland," said Mr. Hanna. "He wrote me some time ago that he would have an hour or so here and we told him we would be pleased to see him. I have since found that he will be unable to stop." This discredits the story that McKinley's manager and Reed's manager would hold a conference before they reached St. Louis.

For Altgeld and Free Silver.

Petersburg, Ill., June 9.—The Mead county democratic convention met in this city Monday. Resolutions were passed endorsing the renomination of Gov. Altgeld and favoring gold and silver coinage and a paper currency convertible into such coinage without loss to the holder, and to that end demand the immediate restoration of silver to its ratio of 16 to 1.

Anna, Ill., June 9.—The democratic senatorial and mass conventions for Union county were held at Jonesboro Monday. The vote of the primary elections last Saturday was canvassed. It showed that 1,078 democrats voted for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1 and only 54 voted against it. The convention declared for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1. It endorsed the administration of J. P. Altgeld and the delegates were instructed to vote for him for governor.

Walling Put on the Stand.

Newport, Ky., June 9.—Alonzo M. Walling testified in his own behalf Monday. It was manifest that the purpose of the defense was to throw the whole guilt of the murder of Pearl Bryan on Scott Jackson. Walling said he never knew Pearl Bryan till she came to Cincinnati. Jackson told him Pearl was in trouble, and asked Walling's help. Jackson later said he would give her some quick poison in some hotel. Then he proposed to kill her, cut her up and scatter the pieces in the city catch basin. When Jackson first broached the matter to him he thought he was "talking through his hat," but now he had every reason to believe Scott Jackson murdered Pearl Bryan.

May Still Beat McKinley.

Lexington, Ky., June 9.—It has leaked out that Gov. Bradley's denial of his withdrawal from the race for the presidential nomination was caused by telegrams received by him from Platt and other eastern republicans, who are trying to beat McKinley.

MAY DROP TARIFF A PROPHET SAYS

FINANCE THE GREAT QUESTION AT ISSUE.

Plans of Gold and Silver Men Set Forth as Learned From Current Gossip at Washington—Gold People May Nominate Cleveland—Speculation Is Rife.

Washington, June 9.—Public interest here is centered on the probable action of the St. Louis convention on the currency question. Speculation on this subject is rife in every quarter. Opinions range from the adoption of a "sound money" plank to the endorsement of ultra free-silver views. The consensus of conservative opinion, however, is that the financial plank will be either the re-enactment of the Minneapolis plank of the plank adopted by the recent republican state convention in Ohio.

Some prominent eastern republicans incline to the belief that the St. Louis convention will take such action on the currency question as will satisfy the "sound-money" men. Such opinions, however, are offset as already indicated by the views of the free-silver men of the west. Old political philosophers are very free in their predictions that the platform adopted at St. Louis will be too much like the Minneapolis or Ohio plank to suit either the radical gold or silver men.

It is the belief of these same political philosophers, that, unless the unexpected happens, the Chicago convention will declare for free silver. They admit that the convention will not be held for some time, and the action of the St. Louis convention in the meantime may influence the result at Chicago.

A gentleman prominent in the councils of the republican party, gives the following as his opinion on the subject:

"I predict that two days after the Chicago convention the tariff question will be as dead as a door nail. You won't hear the subject of tariff mentioned. The currency question is the thing which will agitate this country from now until after election, and, unless my opinions are false, the same question will continue to agitate this country for the next four years."

BERING SEA TREATY.

Convention to Be Officially Proclaimed Within a Few Days.

Washington, June 9.—President Cleveland and the queen of Great Britain will officially proclaim within a few days the Bering sea convention into which their respective governments have entered. The treaty provides for the appointment of a joint commission to ascertain the amount of damages sustained by the owners of British sealing vessels seized in Bering sea by United States revenue cutters before they had authority so to do under the terms of the modus vivendi or the approved decision of the Paris arbitration tribunal.

Color Line Drawn at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—The agitation over the color-line question which started Sunday was intensified yesterday. Major Rainwater, chairman of the local arrangements committee, still stoutly maintains that the colored delegates will be taken care of just the same as if they were white, but no place has yet been secured. Quarters had been engaged at no less than three hotels for colored men, but when the delegation leaders arrived the arrangements were repudiated. The hotels have all announced that the colored men could not be accommodated, because of lack of room. Unless the colored delegates to the convention are assured by the St. Louis committee that accommodations will be provided for them in respectable quarters a motion will be made in the national committee to adjourn the convention to some other city.

Army Worm at Work in Iowa.

Waterloo, Iowa, June 9.—From this and surrounding counties comes news of devastation being wrought by army worms. In some places whole fields of growing crops have been destroyed by the pest and have been plowed under. The worms even attacked blue-grass pastures. The farmers are very much discouraged, and are trying every known remedy to check the progress of the plague, but so far to no avail. It is impossible to place an estimate on the loss sustained in this section, but it will be enormous.

Tornado in Missouri.

Mexico, Mo., June 9.—A tornado struck this vicinity late Sunday evening, causing more or less destruction to houses, barns, trees and crops. As far as known no one was injured in Mexico. Rain fell in torrents, fully six inches covering the ground. The damage by water is considerable. Many residences were undermined and their occupants compelled to leave them. Some were rescued by horses, and others in the bottoms waded out in water waist deep.

Socialists Are Defeated.

Paris, June 9.—A socialist attack upon the government was defeated in the chamber of deputies Monday, the order of the day being adopted by 318 to 238 votes.

CONTESTS ARE NUMEROUS.

Republican National Committee Has Much Work Before It.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—In no former republican convention has the general committee had so heavy a duty to perform in making up the roll for the temporary organization as the present committee has before it. There are 158 contested seats from fifteen states and one territory and of these the entire delegation is contested from five states and the territory of Arizona. The committee as a whole will commence the hearing of the contests Wednesday forenoon and the indications are that it will hardly be able to finish them before the end of the week.

There are not likely to be many contests drawn out on the floor of the convention, because in nearly every instance the contending factions both claim to be for McKinley, and as the McKinleyites will have a majority on the floor it may matter but little with his managers what set of men from the various localities help to swell his strength in the balloting.

It would be hard to predict with any degree of accuracy, who will be selected by the national committee for temporary chairman of the convention, so few of the committeemen have as yet arrived, and there are none of the prominent leaders of the party here. Among the men who have been mentioned are Governor Merriam of Minnesota, and H. Clay Evans of Tennessee, a candidate for the vice-presidential nomination. Mr. Evans is also talked of for permanent chairman, as also are General Grosvenor of Ohio, Senator-Elect George L. Willington of Maryland, Senator Foraker, and Mayor John A. Caldwell of Cincinnati.

EX-GOV. RUSSELL WITHDRAWS.

Owing to Ill Health, Will Not Seek a Presidential Nomination.

Boston, Mass., June 9.—Politicians were excited Monday morning by the news that ex-Governor Russell had quietly left town. His brother said he had gone to Maine to fish. A leading democratic paper makes this statement:

"Ex-Governor Russell's name will not be presented to the Chicago convention. The ex-governor is at present down in the woods of Maine looking for restoration of his impaired health. It is not generally known that the favorite son of Massachusetts has been in bad shape for some time, but it is true, nevertheless, that he is not a well man. This is one reason that will make him silent so far as asking for a nomination for the presidency is concerned. Another is that the silverites have become so strong that it would be next to useless to have his friends urge his nomination when it is known how staunch a gold man he is. On his return from Maine a statement defining his real position and instructing the Massachusetts delegates not to present his name will undoubtedly be made by him."

PISTOL DUEL AT BARDS, ILL.

Prof. Mickey Kills Dr. Dailey for a Young Woman Whom He Was to Wed.

Vincennes, Ind., June 9.—At Bards Ill., nine miles west of this city, Dr. J. H. Dailey was killed by Prof. Sampson T. Mickey in a quarrel over a young woman whose home was at Dr. Dailey's and to whom, it is alleged, Prof. Mickey was betrothed.

Dr. Dailey and his wife were sitting in the office when Prof. Mickey passed. Dailey asked his wife to retire from the office and called in Prof. Mickey. Soon after Mickey entered the office five shots were heard. Friends found Mickey standing over Dailey with a revolver in his hand. Dailey had a revolver tightly clutched in his right hand. Mickey gave himself up to the officers and was taken to the county jail at Lawrenceville to escape violence. Mickey says he shot in self-defense. It is believed it was a duel at short range in which the professor was quickest in using his weapon. Mickey had just returned from Mississippi, where he had gone to prepare a home for himself and prospective bride.

Setback for the British Government.

Cairo, June 9.—The mixed tribunal has rendered judgment against the government and the four commissioners of the Caisse, who favored advancing funds from the Egyptian reserve for the purposes of the Sudan expedition. The tribunal declared that this advance was made in violation of all existing decrees, condemned the government to repay the money advanced and enjoined the commissioners from advancing any further monies from the reserve fund.

Above the Flood Mark of 1889.

Fullerton, Neb., June 9.—The most destructive flood in the history of this region visited the Loup and Cedar valleys Sunday night. The waters reached a height of two feet and four inches greater than the flood of 1889, which was unprecedented at that time. The railroad tracks were washed out of line in some places 250 feet. Railroad and wagon bridges across the Loup here and at Genoa and Palmer are washed away.

Dervishes Were Asleep.

Birket, June 9.—Slatin Pasha has made a tour of the battle-field and recognized the body of Emir Hammuda of the tribe of Habbania, who commanded the dervish forces during the engagement here, which resulted in the defeat of the enemy with heavy loss. Hammuda was shot.

BADGER DEMOCRATS FAVOR FREE SILVER

LAFAYETTE COUNTY CONVENTION'S ACTION.

Meet at Darlington and Endorse the Sixteen-To-One Plan of Making Fifty Cent Dollars—Small Cyclone Does Some Damage at Oshkosh Yesterday.

Darlington, Wis., June 9.—At the Lafayette county democratic convention for the selection of delegates to the state convention the following resolutions were adopted: "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as standard money of this country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discriminating against silver metal, and to the free coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. And we hereby instruct our delegates to the state convention to support such delegates to the national convention as will carry out the views herein expressed."

Cyclone Wrecks a Barn.

Oshkosh, Wis., June 9.—What appears to have been a small cyclone wrecked Edward Minckler's barn about six miles north of this city about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The cloud is described as funnel-shaped, moving at great speed. The path of the cyclone was not at any time more than fifty or sixty feet wide.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

There is but one thing to be said for the game put up by Chicago in Washington yesterday. Washington is stronger than in years past, but it is a fourth-rate team that Washington defeats by a score of 12 to 1. While Anson's men were misrepresenting Chicago, Tebeau's and Ewing's nines were putting up plucky games and winning in Philadelphia and New York. Brooklyn seems to have struck the toboggan, being shut out by Pittsburgh. There were no games in Baltimore and Boston. Games by innings:

At Washington—2 0 2 2 6 0 0 0—12
Chicago .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1
At Philadelphia—

DROWNED HER BABY.

Insane Mother Dies with Her Child in the Chicago River.

Chicago, June 9.—After having quarreled with her husband at noon Mrs. Hannah Kock left home with her two children and threw them and herself into the river near the California avenue bridge. She and her 2-month-old daughter Emma were drowned, but the other child, Charles, 9 years old, escaped.

When Charles Kock arrived at his home at noon yesterday he found his son Charley at home. He angrily asked his wife why the boy was not at school and she replied that he was not feeling well enough. A quarrel followed and the mother put on her wraps and taking her two children left the house. She went at once to the river. Grasping her boy by the hand, the woman rushed into the water. The boy broke away and started across the prairie, but the mother soon overtook him and, dragging him by the collar, again began to wade toward the center of the river. The woman seemed to step into deep water unexpectedly, and in the moment of surprise let go her hold of the boy. As she sank she made a frantic effort to clutch the clothing of her son, but failed, and disappeared from view without a cry. The boy escaped from the water and ran across the prairie screaming. He ran nearly half a mile and fell exhausted. The body of the infant was found, but the woman's body is still missing. Mrs. Kock was about 30 years old and of a desponding disposition. She had been married thirteen years. Her mind was affected by the loss of property, and a little over a year ago she was an inmate of the detention hospital for a short time.

Von Kanitz in the Reichstag.

Berlin, June 9.—During the debate on the commercial treaties in the Reichstag Count von Kanitz admitted that Germany had secured every concession possible, under the circumstances, from Japan. Subsequently Count von Kanitz stated that international silver currency would more serve Germany's needs than the best treaty of commerce.

RARE TREAT GIVEN BY THE SCHOLARS

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES NOVEL AND INTERESTING.

New Ideas and Unique Practical Demonstrations Take the Place of Prosy and tiresome Exercises—Orations a Credit to the City and the School.

"I never spent two hours more pleasantly or more profitably" said a business man as he walked out of the opera house last night. "Janesville should be proud of the intelligence of her youth, and of the school in which they set such training."

And that was the universal verdict. The day when commencement exercises were dull, lengthy and prosy, is past.

Nobody yawned behind an open hand last night. Far from it. From beginning to end, the program was of interest. People listened and looked with wrapt attention and the coming of each graduate was awaited with an expectant hush.

Weighty essays on subjects that had no bearing on the life, present or prospective, of the student, were not discharged at a bored audience, but instead, the pupils selected living themes and gave the audience sentences that were of value.

Scene Was as Pretty One. The Opera House was tastefully decorated. Palms and potted plants nodded at the audience from the footlights, while the American flag and the class colors, were conspicuous. The scenery was arranged in an attractive way and the exercises were not delayed or broken into by any unforeseen interferences.

And the music. There may be better male quartettes than the Linden, of Chicago, but they have not appeared in Janesville. Their voices blended most harmoniously and cultivation and training was shown in every note.

And they were not singing machines.

No. Each member of the quartette rendered his part with an easy grace that added charm to that part of the program. Whether they sang a difficult composition, or the laughable "Grasshopper Cantata," they were equally effective, and enthusiastic applause was accorded.

The Subjects Were Novel. There was nothing stereotyped in the program. It was made up as follows:

Music by Linden Male Quartette of Chicago
"Remember Now Thy Creator".....Rhodes
Helen L. Prichard....."An Important Question"
William F. Denniston....."Argan Family"
Grace I. Ward....."Effect of Games in Education"
Edward L. Williamson....."The Circle"
Music, Linden Quartette.....

Comrades in Arms—Adam
Fannie O. Rumrill....."Chasing the Rainbow"
Roy A. Sanborn....."Good Roads"
Helen L. Prichard....."Shakespeare's Women"
Jeanette C. Ford....."Bread Making"
Music by Linden Male Quartette.....
Grasshopper Cantata—Arranged by Linden Quartette.

Thomas J. Baker....."Heating and Ventilation of the New High School Building."

Maud Bear.....Free Delivery of Mail for Country
Nellie M. Dudley....."The Cycloidal Curve"
Music by Linden Quartette.....

Jay H. Bliss....."The Old Folks at Home"
Fred N. Blakely....."X Ray Photography"
Berta E. Schofield....."Napoleon Bonaparte"
Music by Linden Quartette.....
"The Water Lily"—Adapted by Walter Merritt's Address.

"An Important Question" was the theme chosen by Walter D. Merritt. It dealt with the selection of a profession or calling and he argued lucidly, that a professional career was more attractive and more valuable than a mercantile life. His delivery was excellent, and his paper thoughtful and the applause that followed was enthusiastic.

William F. Denniston chose the "Argan Family" as his subject. Maps and charts were used effectively and added much to the charm of a most interesting paper. Mr. Denniston is a bright young man, and his effort was a credit to him and his instructors.

Miss Grace I. Ward, "The Effect of Games on Education," was the theme of Miss Grace I. Ward's paper. She argued that the effect was beneficial, and the reasons advanced were forcefully worded and gracefully delivered. Her paper made an excellent impression, and she was loudly applauded as she finished.

Edward L. Williamson chose, "The Circle" as his subject, and handled it in an interesting manner. His talk was concise and business like. He did not deal with generalities and linguistic verbiage, but spoke to the point with convincing directness.

Fannie O. Rumrill. After the quartette had sung "Comrades in Arms," Miss Fannie O. Rumrill spoke of "Chasing the Rainbow," and won hearty applause by the excellence of her composition. Her delivery was pleasing and effective.

Roy A. Sanborn. "Good Roads" was the subject upon which Roy A. Sanborn spoke. His oration was enlivened by the use of large water color pictures showing the roads near the "Four Mile Bridge" and in New Jersey. He told of the value of passable highways, and said they were an evidence of civilization and progress. The subject could not have been placed in better hands.

Helen L. Prichard. Miss Helen L. Prichard spoke of "Shakespeare's Women," and her paper was one of the most interesting of the evening. She contrasted the different characters in the plays with which the students were most familiar, in a charming manner and was accorded well merited approbation.

Jeanette C. Ford. "Bread Making" was Miss Jeanette C. Ford's subject. A kitchen table, and the material for the practical demonstration of the subject, were brought forth, and as she told of the chemical action, etc., she mixed the batter and kneaded the dough. Her dexterity in scattering the flour on the moulding board, and reversing the mass of dough, was appreciated by the ladies in the audience, and her interesting running comments and explanations were frequently drowned by applause. It was a novel subject, to be sure, and was as interesting as it was unique.

Thomas J. Baker. Thomas J. Baker chose "The Heating and Ventilating of the New High School" as his subject, and with charts and plans, explained lucidly the theory of the "best system in the world." Probably not one person in a hundred in the audience understood the theory when they entered, but ere Mr. Baker was done with his paper, it is safe to say that all understood the subject fully. Mr. Baker knew what he was talking about, and more than that, he had the faculty of making others understand also.

Miss Maude Bear. Miss Maude Bear made a plea for the "Free Delivery of Mail in the Country," and told of the benefits that the farmer would receive. She had made a study of this subject, as have many others, and her reasoning was clear and convincing. She said that China and Japan had such systems, while America was yet to inaugurate it. Instead of being an expense, the system would be a profitable one for the government, and she held that it was due the farmers to put it in operation. Miss Bear made an excellent impression and handled her subject in an intensely interesting manner.

Miss Nellie M. Dudley. Miss Nellie M. Dudley's theme was "The Cycloidal Curve," and one of the most interesting ones. She demonstrated, by experiments, the beauty and utility of the curve in mechanics, and drew from its use, lessons that were rarely entertaining. In this connection, she also handled the subject of whether or not the top of the wagon wheel moved faster than the bottom, and at the conclusion of her paper, there were none in the audience that could disagree with her, so clear had her explanation and claims been made.

Jay H. Bliss. Jay H. Bliss spoke of "Consistency," and argued that it was the foe of progress. Inconsistency, he held, was what won, and quoted authorities in support of that theory. That Mr. Bliss had prepared his paper in a careful manner, was apparent, and that he knew how to present his ideas in a lucid manner was demonstrated. There was much truth in his remarks, and the applause that followed was fittingly bestowed.

Fred N. Blakely. Green lights danced in the Crookes' tube as Fred N. Blakely gave the audience a practical demonstration of "X Ray Photography." He understood the manipulation of the apparatus thoroughly and explained the workings of the different parts, while the storage battery hummed an accompaniment. A picture of a toy's hand was taken as he talked, and there was no more interesting number on the program.

Miss Berta E. Schofield. Miss Berta E. Schofield's paper on "Napoleon Bonaparte" was the last on the program, and she told of the life of the great general in well chosen words. Stereopticon pictures of the battle of Waterloo, and one of the great man himself, added to the effectiveness of her oration. Miss Schofield's command of language was adequate and her sentences well rounded, and although last, her address was not least. On the contrary, it was one of the best of the evening.

The Exercises Tonight. This evening, the "second delegation" will graduate. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock and the Linden Quartette will again sing. The pupils who will speak are Jessie M. Brown, Irene L. Bennett, Edna M. Spoon, Jennie M. Eddington, Edward M. Kay, Ruby G. Shurtleff, Maud A. McNeil, Harold F. Blanchard, Samuel B. Echlin, Mabel I. Palmer, Benjamin F. Carey, Carl E. Golling, Edward P. Norcross, Anna D. Valentine, Alice Shearer and Monica Gagan.

Every sack warranted. The dancing party at the home of Thomas Barlass, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barlass, was a grand affair. The spacious barn floor was put in excellent shape, and on its waxed surface some fifty or sixty couples danced continuously until morning began to dawn. Everybody had a good time, and no one went away without a word of praise for Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barlass as entertainers. Don't let the big picnic cause you to forget the ice cream and strawberry social on Friday evening of this week at Mr. and Mrs. Eber Van Allen's. The ladies' aid society are making special efforts to have this the banner social of the season. This village and vicinity will be well represented at the Woodmen's picnic. Barley is bearing out in many fields. All small grain is looking well and the prospect for a fair yield is excellent.

POLLS ARE OPEN FOR C. E. BALLOTS

CONDITIONS ARRANGED BY LOCAL ENDEAVORERS.

It Had Been Intended to Limit the Vote to Coupons Cut From the Paper But An Allowance On New Subscriptions Has Been Made By General Request.

June 1 the polls opened for the Christian Endeavor convention ballots. Somebody will go to Washington as The Gazette's guest next month.

Who it is to be the vote will determine.

It was intended at first to have no voting except by coupons clipped from the paper. The premium allowed for new subscribers in the piano contest two years ago, was a source of complaint, so many blocks of votes being transferred from one candidate to another at the last moment. Consultation with members of the three local Christian Endeavor societies, however, resulted in a change of plan. It was urged by all the young people interviewed that allowance be made for new subscribers as well as for coupons. Their arguments decided the matter but it was determined that no voters should be transferred after being once recorded. The conditions of the vote will be as follows:

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote.

Cut out the coupon (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate, and send to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

None but members of the Janesville Christian Endeavor societies are eligible as candidates. The winner will have railroad and Pullman fare paid from Janesville to Washington and will have hotel expenses paid throughout the convention.

Votes may be sent in any time. The polls close July 1 at 9 o'clock p. m.

The votes allowed on new subscriptions paid in advance will be:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day, and vote in the regular manner.

No person shall be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address. In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers. No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday, start it again Tuesday and claim the premium.

WASHINGTON COUPON.

ONE VOTE FOR

The person receiving the most votes between June 1 and July 1, will have railroad fare to Washington and return, as well as hotel expenses in Washington during the National Christian Endeavor Convention, paid by the publishers of The Janesville Gazette.

Tickets will be sale at stations of all connecting lines.

Delegates should not lose sight of the fact that all B. & O. trains run via Washington.

THE THINGS THAT PEOPLE SEE.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot, and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood.

ALTGELD DROPS THE RATIO.

In one respect Governor Altgeld was wise in getting the Cook County free silverites to drop all mention of a ratio. Their platform "attacks the gold standard," and demands the "immediate restoration of the bimetallic system and the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver without waiting for any other nation." In this declaration Altgeld's supporters follow the formula made familiar by pronouncements of the Blands, Morgans, Vests and Harrieses. But in being silent about 16 to 1 or any other proportion they take new ground. Bland and the other leaders of the free coinage wing of the democracy will oppose any "surrender" of the old ratio for which they have fought so many battles.

But Altgeld can truthfully say that in refusing to tie himself to any particular proportion he is nearer the position of the founders of his party than the "16 to 1 or bust" men have reached. To Jefferson the question of the establishment of a ratio resolved itself into an inquiry into the relative market prices of the two metals, gold and silver. That, of course, was the sensible position to take, and it is the only position which can be maintained with any approach to success. Hamilton and Jefferson figured that gold was about fifteen times as valuable, proportionately to weight, as silver, and that was the ratio which was fixed upon it at the beginning. At the time this was a close approximation to the commercial ratio. Silver, however, at length cheapened with respect to gold, and the proportion of 16 to 1 was adopted in the legislation of 1834-37.

There is a chance, however, that in ignoring the ratio question the governor may lose among the worshippers of tradition, as much as he will gain among the friends of common sense. To most of the free coiners the 16 to 1 proportion is something sacred. The silverite who attacks it assails a cardinal tenet of his own creed, and braves a visitation of the divine wrath. In abandoning the secure haven of 16 to 1 proportion the silver man's bark drifts aimlessly among a sea of ratios, no one of which can, by any considerable number as men of his faith, be agreed upon as a secure anchorage. This is a peril to which Altgeld's "new departure" is exposed, and which threatened to be fatal to it. Shall the ratio be 18 to 1, 20 to 1 or 30 to 1? The last named would not be far from the market proportion. But even if the narrow gap between the market prices of the metals at that ratio were bridged by free coinage by this country alone it would probably be broken in a year or half a year, and a new relation would have to be established if the silver coin were to be made an honest dollar. Altgeld's plan is more reasonable than Bland's, but it will repel many Blandites without attracting any sound money men.

WHAT OF MR. CLEVELAND?

What is to become of Grover Cleveland when his present term is ended?

He will go back to private life abhorred by his party as faithless to the platform on which he was elected, and despised by his fellow citizens without regard to party, for his betrayal of American principles in Hawaii, his lukewarmness toward struggling Cuba and his advocacy of a tariff which stimulates foreign and paralyzes American industries.

The democrat will not have him, and genuine republicans have no comfort for him. He has made himself an Ishmaelite in American politics, and his proper place is under the protection of the British flag. Mr. Cleveland will go down in history as the worst practical joke ever played upon a bunched party. Even the democracy can be trusted not to make that blunder again.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—The gavel which will be used by the permanent chairman of the republican national convention has been received at the headquarters of the local committee. It will be presented to the chairman by Senator Berry, one of the Illinois delegates. The gavel is an excellent piece of wood carving by W. H. Bartels, of Carthage, Ill. Mr. Bartels selected the wood—a hickory log taken from the log cabin occupied by President Lincoln at New Salem, Ill., in 1832. There are panels on either side, filled in with suitably inscribed plates of gold and silver.

FAIR AND WARMER THE PREDICTION

PLEASANT DAY FOR THE PICNIC FORECASTED.

Railroad Companies are Getting the Yards Cleared For the Rush—President Board, of The Picnic Association is Here and Predicts a Big Attendance.

Weather forecast for tomorrow—Fair and warmer.

Tomorrow, if the weather prophets prevaricate not, it will be a nice day. 'Tis true that the clouds have hung low for several days, yet there are better things in store, they say.

All is now in readiness for the picnic. Decorations will soon be in place and all plans are about complete.

The work of removing the freight cars from both the Northwestern and St. Paul yards commenced today and the switch engines were kept busy. All side tracks in the manufacturing districts will be utilized, while the same rule will be observed in the C. & N. W. sand pit.

Work on the St. Paul depot was finished today and the job is a credit to the road.

Both roads will have plenty of men on hand to give all strangers whatever information they want.

Police Force Named.

All precautions are being taken to protect the people from pickpockets, etc. Chief Acheson, Officer Hogan, Constable Cochran and Sheriff Appleby are keeping close watch on all strangers, and a special force of about forty men have been sworn in, they being as follows:

C. K. Miltimore, Charles Drum, William Potter, Thomas Lawler, Bert Gilbertson, James Croft, W. C. Whitney, C. H. Burgess, O. Keesey, Jacob Heller, Roy Podewell, John Hemling, Thomas O'Brien, Stephen Steel, John Grady, Thomas Baker, George Schaefer, Fred Hassenauer, Herman Lightfoot, E. H. Dulbee, S. D. Hill, H. B. Walker, Del Waters, R. Vanamee, George James, John Kruse, Edward Roberts, Edwin Hyde, Thomas Casey, Ed. Marshall, Charles Rehfeld, C. A. Lester, William Witham, P. McKinley, Ed. Smith.

Others will probably be sworn in today, and with the railroad detectives and the officers that will come here with the various camps, there will be plenty of police to look after the crowd.

President Board Here.

Ex-Governor W. D. Hoard arrived in the city this morning from Ft. Atkinson for the purpose of looking over the field. He is the president of the picnic association and will preside tomorrow. Mr. Hoard informed a Gazette man that from the present outlook Janesville should see the greatest crowd that ever assembled upon her streets.

Carpenters were busy in the business part of the city today, erecting stands of all description.

The work of decorating is now going on, although many people have been afraid of the rain.

112 camps have been heard from up to date.

The judges for the prize drill of Foresters will be Captain J. B. La Grange, Captain C. H. Hanson and Capt. F. A. Nelthorpe.

Bandmaster Names Aides.

Band Marshal H. M. Weaver, who will have charge of all the bands, has appointed the following aides: Charles Brooks, Albert Hinde, Charles Carpenter, Orin Maybee, Charles Brown and William Strang. It will be the duty of Marshal Weaver and his assistants to be at the depot from the time the first train arrives, to escort the bands to their headquarters.

The Days Racing.

The Driving club have everything in readiness for Woodman's day races. The horses will be called at 1:30 p. m. and the admission will be twenty five cents. The entries are as follows:

2:28 Trot and Pace—Arabel, Jefferson King, Lady S., Sankey Tanky, Isabelle.

2:24 Trot—Jennie Thombs, Black Bess, Fairfield Boy, Massasoit. Free-for-all Pace—Cap. W., 2:11, Hibert Wilkes, Com. Nutt, Alessandro, Manager T.

WM. M'KINLEY JR. A MAN OF MEN

The Searchlight Is Turned on His Career.

A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE AND WORK.

Story of His Private and Public Services—Ancestry and Boyhood—As a Soldier and a Lawyer—His Early Participation in Republican Campaigns—His Political Career—Connection With the Labor Problem.

William McKinley, whose name and personality just now dominate all things Republican, holds the front center of the public stage. He is probably more talked about today than any other American and promises to hold that position for several months. Under the full glare of publicity he stands unflinchingly while the searchlight is turned steadily upon him. It is a crucial test. No detail of his whole career, no phase of his character, no act or word or deed, however shrouded by years, is left undisclosed.

And what does the light reveal? An ancestry of honest, sturdy, hardworking folks, poor and in humble circumstances, but of such sort that no man in this democratic country need be ashamed. A boyhood spent among simple but pure-minded people—spent in industry and in an honest endeavor to rise. A young manhood devoted to gallantly fighting for the Union, and later, when peace had come and the sword was put away, to the pursuit of an honored profession. The details of his later career in congress, where for years he represented his state faithfully and with much personal credit—these were widely known before. His later services to the great commonwealth of which he became governor are of such recent date that they need hardly be mentioned in summing up the events of his life.

As a mere boy he was a good school teacher.

There are official records to show that he was a good soldier.

As a lawyer he did credit to the profession.

As a statesman he made a most brilliant record, which, although in the heat of a political campaign may be criticised by his opponents, will undoubtedly stand the test of time.

As for integrity of character, there is no blot on the McKinley escutcheon. His sterling honesty was demonstrated and tested in the fire of financial disaster. Few public men have had to pass through this ordeal, and none of those who did came out of it more honorably than William McKinley.

His patriotism is the strongest point in his character. Whether as a boy soldier, fighting for his country, or as a politician seeking to serve it, as a governor directing the fortunes of a great state, or as a statesman molding the statutes of the nation, he has been first and foremost an American, and all his pride has been centered in that name. Not since the days of Webster, with whom he has many traits in common, always excepting Abraham Lincoln, have we had a man in public life who so typified the country, whose every utterance had in it so much expression of his love of the land, as McKinley. All through his 4 years in the army, his 14 years in congress and his 4 years in the gubernatorial chair he has been unwavering in his Americanism. Such is the man who is now an honest candidate for the presidency.

M'KINLEY'S BOYHOOD.

He Was a Real Boy, Yet Staunch and of Religious Bent.

William McKinley is sprung from that dominant race that has furnished this nation with some of its greatest soldiers and statesmen. He is Scotch-Irish by descent, and his ancestors immigrated to this country early enough to have sons who took a patriotic part in the war of the Revolution.

The family removed from Pennsylvania to Ohio in 1814, and from that day have been identified with that state.

not in a great public way, but simply as faithful and devoted citizens, not striving for particular eminence, but notable for sturdiness of character and integrity.

It was among such people and of them that William McKinley was born, at Niles, in Trumbull county, O., Jan. 29, 1843.

A younger son, he was destined by his father, after whom he was named, for the bar, and was educated at the public schools, and later entered Alleghany college at Meadville, Pa., teaching school to pay his tuition fees. Scarcely was he matriculated when the civil war came on. He was but a stripling of 19 when he entered as a private.

McKinley, as those who remember him as a boy in Poland declare, was a real boy, full of fun, loving athletic sports, fond of horses and hunting and fishing, and all outdoor exercise, and yet at 16 we find him taking upon himself a serious view of life. The church records show that in 1858, when he was hardly 16, he united with the Methodist Episcopal church of Poland, the minister of which was Rev. Dr. Day, whose son, Wilson M. Day, is now president of the Cleveland chamber of commerce.

Major McKinley's father was an iron general commanding the department of the Cumberland. Second in command was Stanley Matthews, who was a splendid soldier, but won his greatest honors in civil life by becoming United States senator and justice of the United States supreme court; and Rutherford B. Hayes, afterward governor of Ohio and president of the United States. These are a few of the illustrious men who were borne on the roll of officers of the gallant regiment in which marched Private William McKinley, Jr.

He carried the musket for 14 months; then he was promoted. But he won his promotion honestly. His comrades of the rank and file bear testimony to the fact that he was a good soldier; that he performed every duty devolving upon him with fidelity and intelligence and without complaint. They congratulated him, therefore, when he was made commissary sergeant of the regiment. Later, after Antietam, he was made a second lieutenant, and the Mahoning county boy had risen from the ranks.

He was now to all intents and purposes a trained veteran. He had had his baptism in blood at Carnifex Ferry. He had gone through the West Virginia campaign and become a part of the magnificent Army of the Potomac under McClellan. South Mountain and Antietam had been made immortal by the blood of heroes, and the shoulder straps were worn with a due but not exaggerated realization of the responsibilities they implied. He became a second lieutenant on Sept. 24, 1862. He was promoted to first lieutenant Feb. 7, 1863. His commission as captain bears date July 25, 1864.

The brevet rank of major was conferred by President Lincoln "for gallant and meritorious services at the battles of Opequan, Fisher's Creek and Cedar Hill." He was with Sheridan in the Shenandoah campaign; was at Winchester, Cedar Creek, Fisher's Hill, Opequan, Kernstown, Floyd Mountain and Berryville, where his horse was Garfield was in this respect and possesses elements of strength by reason of his thorough study of political subjects. He seems to have had in view from the beginning the devotion of his life to public service. During all his early professional years he was an active participant in Republican campaigns and early gave evidence of the power he has since developed as a public speaker and orator. The plan of his political speaking has always been the same. He first thoroughly masters the subject in hand and then presents it forcibly.

M'KINLEY'S POLITICAL CAREER.

His Work as Congressman, Tariff Specialist and Governor of Ohio.

Major McKinley was but 33 years old when he was elected by the people of his district to represent them in congress. There he soon made his mark, and was returned at each subsequent election until that of 1890, in which year a gerrymander of his district defeated him by a majority of only 302. This was the culminating one of several efforts on the part of the Democratic legislature to gerrymander McKinley out of congress.

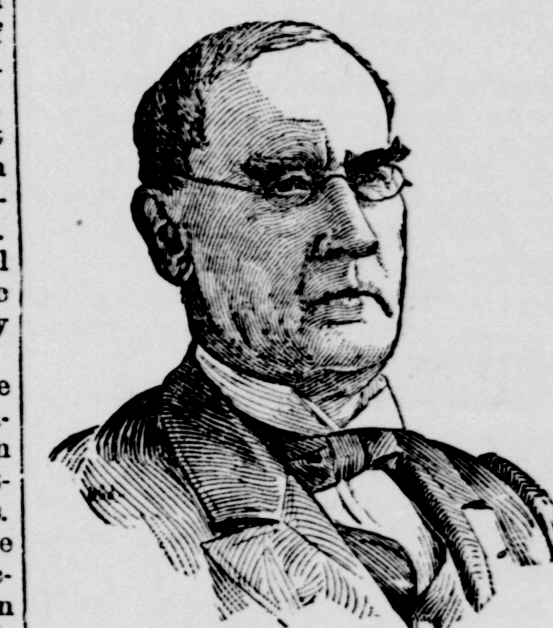

While in congress he served on the committee on revision of laws, the judiciary committee, the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department and the committee on rules. When General Garfield received the nomination for the presidency, Mr. McKinley was assigned to the vacancy on the committee on ways and means. He served on the last mentioned committee until the expiration of his last term as representative. While chairman of this committee he framed the McKinley bill, which afterward became a law and which still bears his name.

McKinley was a protege of ex-President Hayes, and up to the time of the latter's death he recognized the president as his adviser and counselor. He was in General Hayes' regiment of tariff? Being a subject that will not be settled for years to come, it offers a great field for study and a chance for ultimate fame.

With these words ringing in his ears McKinley began studying the tariff and soon became the foremost authority on the subject.

The day upon which the "McKinley tariff bill" was passed in the house must always stand as the supreme moment of McKinley's congressional career. The bill, by adroit parliamentary generalship which had prevented it from being weighted down with amendments not approved by the committee, had been brought under the operation of the previous question. It stood complete, ready to go forth for good or evil. Upon McKinley devolved the task of smoothing its path and speeding it upon its way.

The occasion, thoroughly advertised, attracted to the capitol an immense throng. The galleries were one mass of humanity and the anticipation of the vote had compelled the attendance of every member. As usual, McKinley spoke without notes. His voice, penetrating but not harsh, filled the chamber. Every sentence was as solid as the granite in the eternal hills. Never was an orator more free from the ordinary claptrap than McKinley. So true is this that the incident when he suddenly drew from beneath his desk the suit of clothes which he purchased for $10 at the establishment of a fellow representative in Boston, in order to demonstrate the cheapness of wearing apparel, stands out in all its loneliness with vivid distinctness.

It was this earnestness and self conviction that made McKinley's address in the house and on the stump so effective. Indeed the occasion is still recalled when he held an audience of Georgia people for two hours at a Chautauqua assembly near Atlanta while he preached to them the glories of the protective tariff system. "It was only by the greatest self control," said Henry W. Grady, speaking of this event afterward, "that I restrained myself from rising as McKinley concluded his wonderful speech and declaring myself henceforth ready to follow him as a disciple."

James G. Blaine, in his "Twenty Years of Congress," reviews the Forty-fifth congress, in which McKinley first sat, as follows: "William McKinley, Jr., entered from the Canton district. He enlisted in an Ohio regiment when but 17 years old and won the rank of major by meritorious service. The interest of his constituency and his own bent of mind led him to the study of industrial questions, and he was soon recognized in the house as one of the most thorough statisticians and one of the ablest defenders of the doctrine of protection."

At a great mass meeting in Indianapolis several years ago ex-President Harrison was presiding officer. McKinley was one of the speakers, and Harrison introduced him as follows:

"He has endeared himself to all by his record as a gallant young soldier battling for the flag. He has honored himself, his state and the country by his conspicuous services in high legislative and executive places. No man more than he is familiar with the questions that now engage public thought. No man is more able than he lucidly to set them before the people. I do not need to invoke your attention to what he shall say. He will command it."

The sentiment which resulted in the nomination of McKinley for governor of Ohio was engendered immediately upon the announcement of the result of the election of 1890, when after 14 years' continuous service in congress the Ohio statesman was defeated for re-election, despite the fact that he cut down the Democratic majority from 2,900 to 302.

During his gubernatorial campaign in 1893 McKinley visited 86 of the 88 counties of Ohio and made 130 speeches. He was elected by a plurality of 80,995, up to that time the record plurality in Ohio's history.

The policy which Governor McKinley pursued during his four years of occupancy of the gubernatorial chair was well outlined when in his inaugural address he said: "It is my desire to co-operate with you in every endeavor to secure a wise, economical and honorable administration, and, so far as can be done, the improvement and elevation of the public service."

From the day of his inauguration Governor McKinley took the greatest interest in the management of the public benevolent institutions of the state, and he made a study of means for their betterment. During his first term the state board of arbitration was created, and he made the workings of the board a matter of personal supervision during the entire four years of his administration. This board has had its services enlisted in 28 strikes, and in 15 cases its efforts have been successful.

No account of McKinley's connection with labor problems would be complete without some mention of the tireless energy which he displayed in securing relief for the 2,000 miners in the Hocking valley mining district who early in 1895 were reported out of work and destitute. The news first came to the governor one night at midnight, but before 5 o'clock in the morning he had upon his own responsibility dispatched to the afflicted district a car containing $1,000 worth of provisions. Later he made appeals for assistance and finally distributed among the 2,732 families in the district clothing and provisions to the amount of $32,796.95.

manufacturer, and a pioneer in that business. William was his third son. The eldest, David, is now a resident of San Francisco, where he is the Hawaiian consul general to the United States. The second son, James, died about four years ago. There is another son, Abner, younger than the major, who, although a citizen of Canton, spends most of his time in New York, where he is engaged in business.

McKinley's mother is now 87 years of age, but alert and vigorous, mentally and physically. She sees much of her distinguished son, and he waits on her and walks with her each day he spends in Canton. Even now, while his anxieties are and should be on keener edge, playing, as he is, a bold game for the biggest stake on earth, he visits and walks with his mother every afternoon. They prefer the quiet streets of the suburbs for these little excursions, and McKinley may be seen escorting the old lady with the profoundest deference and affection, while the conversational interchange between the two never flags.

M'KINLEY, THE SOLDIER.

How He Rose From the Ranks and Became a Brevet Major.

Young McKinley had been a keen observer, so far as his opportunities went, of the political events that culminated in the firing on Fort Sumter. The call of the president for troops found a quick response in his breast, as it did all through the north. And when the drums and fifes aroused the echoes of the quiet streets of Poland, among the first applicants for enlistment was William McKinley, Jr.

It was a new experience and a new school that the 18-year-old boy entered, this school of war, but he had wonderful teachers. It was his good fortune that assigned him to the Twenty-third Ohio. The recruits that composed it were in June, 1861, mustered and formed into a regiment. Its first colonel was William S. Rosecrans, afterward major shot from under him, and in all the battles in which the Twenty-third participated. He served on the staffs of Generals Hayes, Crook, Hancock and Carroll. He was mustered out with the regiment July 26, 1863, after more than four years' continuous service.

M'KINLEY AS A LAWYER.

He Wanted to Continue His Military Career, but His Parents Objected.

When the war closed, McKinley was just 22. He was full of youthful enthusiasm and ardor, and he returned to his home in Ohio fully expecting to accept the flattering offer made him of a commission in the regular army.

But to this his parents offered strong opposition. They pointed out the small rewards to honor and ambition that came to the soldier in times of peace. At length he yielded to their persuasion, and reluctantly gave up his dreams of martial glory and bent his mind upon the pursuits of peace. The war had made a man of him and ended all thought of a collegiate career. He cast about for a profession, and naturally, considering the bent of his mind, he chose the law. He became a student in the offices of Charles E. Glidden and David Wilson, then leaders of the Mahoning county bar. He supplemented his reading by taking the course at the Albany Law school, and in 1867 was admitted to the practice. He located at Canton, where he formed a partnership with Judge Belden.

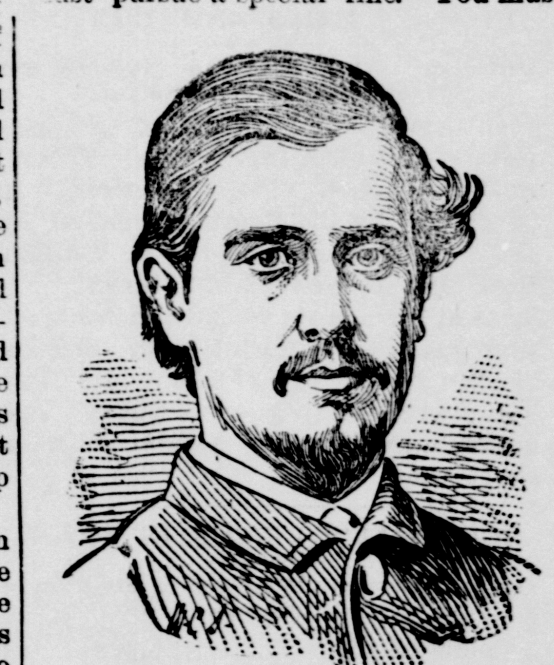

He was an excellent advocate, even in those early years, and made some of the best jury arguments ever made at the Stark county bar. At the time he was first elected to congress he enjoyed one of the leading places and one of the best general practices in the county.

As a lawyer Mr. McKinley was always thorough and careful in the preparation of cases. He had the confidence of everybody and soon became particularly prominent as an advocate. He prepared himself by thorough courses of reading for his public career. He is much as during the rebellion. General Hayes knew him and his father well, and saw in the dashing young cavalier the germ of greatness. He needed a counselor, an adviser, a friend, and General Hayes watched over him with the filial love, devotion and pride of a father.

The war ended, McKinley still remained an object of hope, of interest and pride to General Hayes. McKinley became a candidate for congress and was elected. When Hayes was president, McKinley was in the house of representatives. The major was a frequent welcome visitor at the White House. One day the president gave McKinley the foremost champion of a protective tariff. President Hayes thus spoke to the young representative:

"To achieve success and fame you must pursue a special line. You must not make a speech on every motion offered or bill introduced. You must confine yourself to one particular thing. Become a specialist. Take up some branch of legislation and make that your study. Why not take up the subject

A ROGUE ELEPHANT

He Had Been Guilty of Many Crimes, and Was a Terror to Everybody.

From the Madras Standard.
During a recent religious festival at Alvaritrunagari, on the banks of the Tambramani, a terribly tragedy was enacted by an elephant. Like most large temples this has its periodical festivals, one of which has just been celebrated. Certain elephants were brought down from Nunguneri and Tianevelly for the festivities of the occasion. All went smoothly till, unfortunately, the large elephant of Nunguneri, being in a rut, run amuck. The mahout unwittingly took up a little child (son of the Temple Darraakartha) and placed it in front of him on the neck of the elephant. Alarmed at the state of the elephant, the mahout endeavored to quietly pass the child out of danger by handing it to somebody behind. He was not quick enough to elude the sagacity of the elephant, which snatched up the child, put it into his mouth, and began munching it. The mahout, horrified at the sight, jumped down and tried to extricate the child, which he succeeded in doing, but not before the child was well nigh dead. Indeed, it only breathed for a few minutes afterward, and then expired. Enraged beyond all bounds, the animal became furious, and in its mad rage seized the mahout, dashed him to the ground, and then trampled out any little breath that might have still remained in the body. And here comes a strange and touching incident. Repenting seemingly of his awful misdeed, the elephant gathered up what was the moment before his master, proceeded to his (the mahout's) house, and, depositing his mournful burden at his door, passed on. The people generally, in great dread, closed their doors and windows. The elephant wildly rushed along the streets and came to the temple, the door of which too, had been closed. It thereupon battered the door, and passing into the enclosure, furiously attacked the little elephant of Tianevelly, which it pierced with its tusks and soon killed. Emerging thence, the elephant rushed madly along the river close by, where it began throwing mud and sand all over itself. In the meantime, the police constables had got their muskets loaded, and, climbing out of danger, took pot shots at the furious animal, which they eventually succeeded in disabling and ultimately killing.

POOR, BUT HONEST.

Bishop Potter So Declares Himself to a Society Matron.

Last year Bishop Potter went out to Tuxedo to confirm a class of young people in the new church there. A young matron who had been a member of the congregation of Grace Church while the Bishop was its rector, and had herself been confirmed and married by him, wrote and insisted that he should stop with her during his stay at Tuxedo. He accepted. As a particular honor she adorned his room with an elaborate toilet set of solid silver that included more than a dozen pieces. The Bishop came, confirmed the candidates and went away. But the silver toilet set could not be found. It was not on the dressing table nor in the bathroom, and the matron's astonishment was great. Her annoyance was almost as great, and for two days she wondered what could have become of the set, and whether the Bishop had supposed it was a present. On the third day she summoned up courage enough to write and ask him if by mistake his man or one of the servants had packed up the silver toilet set with his luggage, and it had been overlooked in unpacking, etc. The Bishop answered promptly, for the next day she received this telegram: "Am poor, but honest. Look in the table drawer." The young woman did look, and the toilet set was found there.

Four-Leaf Clover Party Is the Latest

A four-leafed clover party is a pretty entertainment for a summer gathering, especially if the hostess has a country home or a clover field in her yard. The way to utilize the clover is to decorate the house with its blossoms, both red and white. The linen and china should also be ornamented with clover blossoms. In the hall there should be a little rattan table festooned with vines and clover blossoms, and covered with a green mat formed of ivy leaves. On this should stand a large glass punch bowl filled with iced lemonade, and surrounded by small glasses. A young girl in a dainty gown—it might be one of the new white delaines showing a clover leaf—should preside over the tempting beverage, as only a young girl can. At the close of the luncheon or tea the guests may be invited to hunt for four-leaf clovers, and those finding the largest number may be rewarded with pretty clover pins, while the unfortunate who finds the smallest number may be given a pair of eyeglasses to aid in some future search.—Jennett Miller Monthly.

A Disastrous Kentucky Duel.

The Chino-Japanese war has produced something like a camphor famine, for the substance now costs from $7 to $8 a hundredweight, and the Celestial finds it dearer than the Londoner. It is reassuring to know that Izal is even more effective than camphor in arresting and preventing disease, and that, at present quotations, it is much cheaper.

BICYCLE SHOES AS EASY AS GLOVES

To be comfortable while riding you must have shoes made for the purpose. The arrangement of vamp sole and lacing must be perfect. Bicycle Shoes for every day wear, however, afford wonderful ease to sensitive feet. They prove very satisfactory, too, for golf and other games where much walking is necessary. No Bicycle Shoe has ever stood the test the way the "Ball Bearing" has.

Three Nobby Ones For Men--

OX BLOOD CALF—Made of the highest quality stock, with black lacings and lace holes. The top notch of style.

TAN CALF—The natural color of the leather. Cool looking and as flexible and easy as kid.

BLACK CALF—These are preferred by some to the tan. We meet all tastes. The leather in these Shoes is the famous "Prince of India," tough as belt lacings. We honestly believe there is no better Bicycle Shoe made. We have all widths.

Nelson, the winner of the Chicago Road Race, wore "Ball Bearing" Shoes.

Great Assortment For The Ladies...

All the prettiest styles are in our stock this year. Easy and well-fitting Bicycle Shoes for ladies—the element of beauty not neglected, either. What would you like? If it is new we have it.
